

ACO HLF Heritage Awards Programme

Nomination Criteria.

Category 1. Contributions to Education/Awareness/Advocacy

Long-Term Contribution Award: Individual or group:

Recognizes an individual volunteer, or group, who has devoted time, energy and enthusiasm to the preservation of London's built heritage over many years. Amongst other things this could be by attending meetings, writing letters, speaking out at City Hall, organizing events that showcase London's heritage, undertaking social media initiatives, volunteering with local heritage groups. This category also includes individuals who are either founders or builders of local heritage organizations.

Heritage Hero Award: Individual or group one-time contribution

Recognizes an individual volunteer (or group) who has brought vision, passion and creativity by advocacy for a project or programme that would preserve our heritage. This might focus on a specific archaeological feature, building, or cultural landscape.

A project designed to increase awareness of the need to preserve our built heritage.

Local History Award: For writing, archival work, video production, social media initiatives, or online publications

Recognizes an individual or group, who has helped to preserve historic records, or who, by scholarship, study, and published research, has increased our awareness of the richness of our local heritage.

Category 2. Conservation of Heritage

Adaptive Re-Use Project Award

Recognizes an individual, group, or business, who has undertaken a significant conservation project by restoring a heritage building or structure for a new purpose.

Major Restoration Project Award

Recognizes an individual, group, or business who has enabled the conservation of a heritage building or structure by means of extensive restoration.

Small-Scale Restoration Project Award

Recognizes an individual, group, or business, who has undertaken a small-scale heritage conservation project. This award can recognize the conservation of a heritage attribute including, but not limited to, wood window restoration, porch restoration, bargeboard or trim restoration, masonry restoration, stained glass window restoration.

Archaeological/ Cultural Landscape Conservation Project Award

Recognizes an individual, organization, or business, who has undertaken a significant project enabling the conservation of an archaeological feature, or cultural landscape.

Category 3. Heritage Professional Award

Recognizes an individual or group employed in the Heritage sector who has done extraordinary work in enabling a restoration project to succeed, or has gone above and beyond their professional role in the field of education awareness or advocacy. These may include architects, contractors, craftsperson, consultants, etc.

N.B. The awards are given at the discretion of the nominations committee. There may not necessarily be an award given in each category each year. In some categories, more than one award may be given.